

GRADUATE PROGRAMS

Randolph-Macon College offers a single graduate program in Physician Assistant Studies in which students pursue the Master of Science in Physician Assistant Studies. An informational overview of the program is included in the Academic Catalog, along with the program's curriculum requirements, admission criteria, and primary academic policies. Additional curricular, policy, and procedural information may be accessed via the PA Student Handbook found online (<https://www.rmc.edu/departments/pa/program-information/>). PA Students will be held to all standards, policies, and procedures outlined in the Student Handbook.

- Physician Assistant Studies (<https://rmc.courseleaf.com/graduate-programs/physician-assistant/>)